Managing a bleak smile every now and then, all he would say was that he was refusing to answer on the Fifth Amendment grounds that an answer might tend to incriminate him.

The Senate Rackets Committee contends that Hoffa, with the help of Dio and other New York hoodlums, rigged a February 1956 election to put O'Rourke in as show O'Rourke was put into head of the strategic Council 16.

This, the committee maintains, was part of a plot to bulwark to the extent he could get a stranglehold on New York and the Hoffa's power as a union big shot Eastern seaboard.

Labor Racketeer, Bodyguard Face Evasion Charges

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (A)-The government set out anew today to try to put labor racketeer Johnny Dio behind federal prison bars, this time on income tax evasion charges. Indicted with him was his hulking henchman and bodyguard, Teddy Ray.

The State of New York has convicted Dio three different times. He currently is being held in Tombs City Prison awaiting sentence next month on the third conviction, a labor shakedown deal. He could get two years on

However, the federal government never has hung as much as a single day in prison on the suave 43-year-old Dio. Last May its case against him in the acid-blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel blew

HOT WEATHER FOOD FAVORITES

To Start a Hot Day Right-

A cool, refreshing breakfast can do so much to lift the spirits of your family at the start of another hot, summer day. Serve them fresh fruit atop crisp shredded wheat with chilled milk and just see if they do not feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours. Is it really worth while to take ten minutes of your time each day to ensure that your family has an adequate morning meal? Research at a leading Midwestern university on the importance of breakfast has demonstrated that the physical and mental wellbeing of the subjects improved if they are an adequate morning meal. In just ten minutes you can prepare a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This is a basic breakfast pattern recommended by leading doctors and dietitians to provide an adequate morning meal.

In hot weather, it is especially important to think up ways to make the morning meal as cool and attractive as possible. The many fresh fruits, varieties of ready-to-eat breakfast cereals and breadstuffs available on today's market make variety easy. Have you given any thought to your table setting? Are you using cool-looking place mats, such as straw, bamboo, or pastel plastic? Do you always serve breakfast in the kitchen or dining room? What about serving breakfast on the porch or patio? Sometimes setting breakfast on a tray adds interest and variety. Then each one in the family can carry his tray to the coolest spot possible.

A little extra care and planning to make the morning meal as cool, attractive, and refreshing as possible will pay large dividends if it encourages the family to start the day right—by eating breakfast. A cereal and milk breakfast is a light, modern, nutritious breakfast that can be served with a minimum of effort yet provides the family with an adequate morning meal.

Cool Off with a Low-Calorie Drink

Just plain wonderful on any hot day is this Pineapple-Lime Cooler. Stir up a big pitcherful so that everyone can enjoy seconds. For, unlike many summer thirst-aids, this drink not only is refreshingly cool, but also is calculatedly low in calories.

To mix this "cooler-offer", you combine pineapple, lime and lemon juice with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl. This base can be kept in the refrigerator until serving time. Then you add ginger ale (the non-caloric variety) and pour over ice.

Simply by replacing the sugar you'd ordinarily use with Sucaryl, you accomplish whopping big calorie savings. Our low-calorie cooler contains just 30 calories in every tall icy glassful. If you made the drink with sugar, you'd be adding 129 unnecessary calories to each glass. Best part is, this non-caloric sweetener gives the drink a naturally sweet flavor. You just can't taste the difference. PINEAPPLE-LIME COOLER (Low-Calorie)

14 cups unsweetened pineapple juice 1/2 cup fresh lime juice cup lemon juice

2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution or 48 tablets, crushed 1 pint no-calorie ginger-ale

Combine all ingredients except ginger-ale; chill. Just before serving, add ginger-ale. Pour over crushed ice or ice cubes in tall glasses. Garnish with fresh fruits, if desired. Makes 6 servings. Each serving contains 30 CALORIES; 0.2 gram protein; 0 fat; 8.7 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 159 CALORIES.

"Mother, make our picnic coconut cake . . . we'll all help, and we can start in less than an hour! That's the signal for a picnic and you can tell—this is a quicknic family! Each member of this family has a part in the picnic preparation . . . to make it a quicknic! The coconut cake is Mother's job—and, as you can imagine, it's a special picnic cake, made with a wonderful crusty browned coconut topping!

1 package instant lemon flake 3 egg wh 3 egg whites

3/4 cup sugar 1 cup water 2 unbeaten eggs 1 cup Baker's Angel Flake

Prepare cake mix with water and eggs as directed on package. Pour batter into 13x9x2-inch pan, which has been greased and floured on bottom. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 to 35 minutes. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended.
Then continue beating until meringue will stand in stiff peaks. Spread at once on hot cake in pan and sprinkle with coconut Return cake to moderate oven (350°F.) and bake about 12 min-ates longer, or until coconut is golden brown. Leave in pan. Cover with foil punched here and there with holes to allow cooling on way to picnic. Cut in squares to serve. Makes 24 squares.

Railroads' Role Vital To Economy

Of course it's unrealistic, but an analytical piece in the current issue of Railway Progress is interesting in its estimates of the effects on the American economy should the country's railroads suddenly cease to exist.

Actually, of course, this is a way of emphasizing what the railroads mean in terms of employment, payrolls, and the business they create for supplier industries.

If the railroads were suddenly wiped out, says the publication, a million workers would be added to the ranks of the nation's unemployed workers. The combined pay of the million is $5.3 billion annually. There would be a need for a sharp increase in federal, state and local taxes to offset the $1.2 billion a year currently

More than 25,000 concerns spread among every one of the 48 states would suffer a loss of $2.8 billion in business represented by the 200,000 items these carriers now require. The steel industry would sustain a 5.8 per cent loss in output and patroleum producers would lose the outlet for 3.4 per cent of sales. The result would be that supplied industries would be forced to cut their payrolls by more than 300,-000 workers.

Carrying the analysis closer to the individual, the publication says consumer prices, among other things, would rise sharply-because no other transportation system can move goods more cheaply than U. S. railroads. It says that one dollar's worth of fuel can move a 40-ton freight car 151 miles but will move two 20-ton trucks less than 12 miles on the highway.

What this imaginative piece fails to point out is that if railroads were to be eliminated, many, if not all, of the losses it pictures would be offset by gains in trucking, bus lines, air transport, shipping, etc., that would move into the economic vacuum that would be created.

The real point it makes, of course, is that the railroads can provide service that no other form of transportation can perform as efficiently.

The Abel Spy Case

If the FBI file in the Abel spy case has to be pro- or do you stand with the Comduced in court, even if limited to its pertinent parts, the case may never be brought to trial because such a file would contain direct leads to other files. Thus the Jencks Decision of the Supreme Court, which has already resulted in a number of cases being withdrawn, could protect this spy from an effective trial

Deportation will not serve because Abel is a cooked goose anyhow. Should he be deported, he will undoubtedly be sent to Siberia, for no greater crime can a spy permit than to be caught redhanded. As a-matter of fact, the safest way out for Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel is to throw himself on the mercy of an American court and hope that he gets life. On the other hand, he has a family in Soviet Russia and is not likely to risk their lives

The FBI has done a masterly job in getting the evidence on the Abel ring, but its work, in this connection, is obviously not done. No country, operating an efficient espionage organization, leaves it to one group. During the past few months, the FBI has broken up two Russian "systems" in this country; the likelihood is that a dozen or more are at work and that they do not know each other.

At one time, the Russians employed American natives as couriers and as agents, such as Elizabeth Bentley, Whittaker Chambers, Alger Hiss, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg-to mention a few who have either confessed or been convicted. The American agent became a problem when some of them exposed themselves or were exposed by a Congressional committee. Apparently, the new espionage systems do not include many Americans, if any.

I think, however, that as the work of the Russian spies is unfolded in a court before a jury, it will be found that one important center of activity was at Fort Monmouth, where Senator Joe McCarthy stubbed his toe by uncovering astonishing Army negligence.

The general assumption after the Army-McCarthy hearings was that Joe McCarthy had tried to make a case against the Army and had failed. As I was present at some of the preliminary discussions between Senator McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens, I know that what McCarthy was seeking at Fort Monmouth was a spy ring that was obviously working there. McCarthy was certain that he had found it, but the Army desired to avoid a scandal and to get rid of the bad boys in its own way. However, in the conversation at which I was present was there ever a denial that Fort Monmouth was a seat of

I again raise this unpleasant issue because Abel operated in the electronic field which must have included the work at Fort Monmouth.

The Russian problem has been not only to catch up with the United States in electronics, but to have blueprints of what we have done in this field to measure their own advances which have been enormous. This form of espionage is continuous because it is essential to national interest. Undoubtedly we engage in it by some means or other and if we do, we deserve to be defeated. The efficiency of such work is not measurable by normal means, because it is always assumed that spies will get caught, that some will become traitors and that some will become double agents. The best espionage system therefore is one that duplicates and triplicates its operations and that ruthlessly murders those who betray it.

If the FBI is hampered by the Jencks Decision from catching Russian agents at work, we shall be weakened in our defenses to a degree that is not yet clear to all of our people, certainly not to Representative Emanuel Celler who has been slow in putting through the House Judiciary Committee the Keating Bill which is essential to meet this Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, also known as "Mark," and also known as Martin Collins and Emil R. Goldfus, should have his day in an American court but the FBI files should not be made available to his or any other lawyers in whole or in part, lest by that means other Russian, Polish, Hungarian, Czech and Red Chinese spies discover what is known about them.

It will seem strange to many people in America that it should have been necessary for the Department of State to make such an appeal to any citizens of the United States. But Lincoln White, press officer of the department, in releasing the text of the Herter letter, said it is "well known that certain of these people (delegates), if not admitted Communpartment of State to lift its ban on travel in Red China so that American newsmen might enter that country. The State Department has considered the idea of modifying slightly the restrictions, and perhaps this move has encouraged other groups to believe that the United States is ready to change its policy toward all citizens who may wish to go to Red China The department of state, however, now announces emphatically why it is opposed in principle to all travel by American citizens in Red China, and says:

Not Consistent

"Generally speaking, it is not consistent with the policy of the United States, as approved by the president, that citizens of the United States travel to the areas of China under Communist con-

There are many reasons for this, and they are cumulative. They include the non-recognition of the regime; the existence of a quasi-state of war and the continued application of the Trading With The Enemy Act; the refusal of Communist China to renounce the use of force: and the illegal jailing of Americans already in China despite promise to let them

This is a clear exposition of American policy, and already the State Department says it has received communications from parents of some of the delegates requesting that their children "be informed of their strong disapproval of any travel to Communist China.

It's going to be interesting to see how many of the students stand with their own government and how many choose to defy the advice given and stand by the Communist government in this propaganda battle.

Children's Grades Suffer When Health Fails

(Distributed by INS)

What factors interfere with the classroom performance of a child? A three year survey of a group of Chicago public school pupils showed that the most common causes of poor grades were nutritional disturbances and nervous and emotional problems. Patterson better not be overconfident. Then there is the possibility of a lucky punch such as Firpo landed on Jack Dempsey in that historic brawl at the Polo Grounds. I have no predictions to make as to the outcome of the Patterson-Rademacher affair but as Harry Balogh would say, "May the more proficient participant emerge triumphant."

Car Strikes Pedestrian

A 37-year-old Bedford Street man was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Decatur and Frederick streets about 10 o'clock last night as he was crossing the street. Robert Mellott of 323 Bedford Street, employed by John S. Cook and Son, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital where attendants said his condition was "good." Mellott was knock d to the street by the impact and suffered a possible fractured leg. The car was driven northeast on Frederick Street by Samuel Lee Keister, 23, of RD 3, Bed-Keister, a Marine reservist said he was traveling home at the time when Mellott stepped off the curb in front of his car. Mellott told Officers John Powers and James Morris of the Cumberland Police Department he saw the car but thought he could get across the street.

The officers placed a reckless driving charge against Keister.
